How to Study Smart: 20 Scientific Ways to Learn Faster

Sleep-learning (also known as hypnopædia, or hypnopedia) is an attempt to convey information to a sleeping person, typically by playing a sound recording to them while they sleep. It is almost certainly a pseudoscience, as this particular kind of sleep learning is almost certainly impossible. Many studies have claimed to discredit the technique's effectiveness, but some others claim to have ...

While snoring is a nuisance to those around you, it may also be a sign of a more serious breathing disorder known as sleep apnea. Sleep apnea results when you stop breathing at intervals throughout the night: your body awakens just enough to breath, and you might not be aware of a problem. Sleep apnea can result in daytime drowsiness, memory loss, high blood pressure and even premature death.
