The hypodermic needle model (known as the hypodermic-syringe model, transmission-belt model, or magic bullet theory) is a model of communication suggesting that an intended message is directly received and wholly accepted by the receiver. The model was originally rooted in 1930s behaviorism and largely considered obsolete for a long time, but big data analytics-based mass customization has led ...

When the first spring rays of sun light appear, from the earth peep out the little heads of crocuses, narcissus and tulips, the magic play of colours starts again. It is the right time to make for this spring the stuffed shawl. It is the light, airy and triangle shape with easy memorable pattern, it will not take much of our time. It is convenient for beginners and young knitters.
